HONOLULU CLEANED UP SUGAR AND PINEAPPLES AT THIS PORT

All the available sugar and pineapples stored at Matson Navigation warehouses and wharves were sent to the mainland with the departure of the steamer Honolulu, that got away for San Francisco at ten o'clock this morning.

The Honolulu carried 4800 sacks sugar, which together with 10,000 cases of preserved pineapples, 3200 bunches bananas, and quantities of rice, honey, hides and sundries, made up a fair sized cargo. A rather small list of cabin passengers sailed for the mainland in the vessel. The frequent sailing of liners from Honolulu to the coast within the past few weeks coupled with the fact that the travel has now set toward Hawaii and not away from it, has had much to do with the small number of travelers leaving the islands in recent departing steamships.

A merry crowd gathered at the wharf to bid farewell to passengers. The absence of the band, now away on vacation, made but little difference. The Honolulu carried a supplementary mail destined for the mainland. The big accumulation was forwarded to the coast in the China Express, for San Francisco yesterday afternoon.

Seeing Reefs Claim Dacre Castle.
The Pacific Mail liner China, an arrival from the far east, brought further particulars concerning the loss of the British steamer Dacre Castle at Keelung, Formosa. The Dacre Castle, a familiar trader in Oriental waters, was destined for New York by the way of Manila, Straits Settlements and Suez at the time of the disaster. The steamer arrived at Keelung to take on extensive shipments of tea when, in the recent typhoon, her anchor chain parted. The vessel steamed towards the offing and east another anchor at a point in rear of the Japanese warship Hatakura. At 1 a. m. on the 17th, when the storm was at its height, the steamer was driven on a rock off Keelung. The Japanese warship constantly directed her searchlights on the steamer to facilitate the work of the seamen, while the harbor office and water police of Keelung posted men on shore, where boathouses were lit, to render assistance. Owing to the heavy seas, communication with the vessel was impossible, and at half past six the Dacre Castle parted amidships. Steam launches were dispatched to the scene but were unable to reach the vessel until 12:30 p. m., when the crew were all taken off. The crew consisted of 18 Englishmen, 5 Chinese and 21 Lascars. The Englishmen were accommodated at a Japanese inn, the Chugokyo, and the others in the official residences of the postal officials. There is little hope of refloating the hull, but men are at work attempting to salvage the cargo. A Shidzuka telegram states that the Dacre Castle shipped from Shimizu ten thousand boxes of tea, valued at $60,000 yen.

Another British Steamer Sold to Japanese.
The British steamer Langbank (2966 tons net), which arrived at Yokohama from Rangoon on the 12th instant with a cargo of rice, has just been sold to Messrs. Suzuki & Co. of Kobe, and delivered to the buyers in this port. She has been renamed the Fukushima.

EXPERT CHOSEN

...a little more than a year ago to take charge of the expenditure of about $600,000 which that island had decided to invest in highway improvements.

The appointment is made practically on the strength of Mr. Bishop's record, which has proven him capable of handling large affairs. In addition to that, I have received numerous recommendations for him, many men coming voluntarily with suggestions of other names, saying, when I asked what they thought of Bishop, "Oh, well, of course, if you can get him, he's the best man for the place."

Mr. Bishop is a comparatively young man, about thirty years of age, and resides with his family at Hilo. He probably will arrange to remove his home from that city to Honolulu before taking charge of his new office here.

He comes highly recommended from the members of the Hawaii loan fund commission, each member of which has spoken a good word in his behalf since the matter of the appointment has been under consideration. The Governor has had Bishop's name before him for the last four or five months.

Bishop came to Hawaii about a year ago from New York, where he was State highway engineer. The Hawaii loan fund commission wished to secure an expert, road engineer and Bishop was secured by A. W. Carter and the other members of the commission and brought to Hawaii. He has been here the necessary length of time to qualify for the position.

KAILANI IS REMEMBERED IN SCHOOL PROGRAM

Pupils Observe Annual Day with Exercises in Institution Named for Princess

Today is the birthday of Princess Kailani, and in commemoration of the benefactress, appropriate exercises were held this morning by the teachers and pupils of the Kailani School. The assembly hall was festively decorated, and Mrs. Nina L. D. Fraser, principal, and her able staff of assistants had arranged a good program.

The portrait of Princess Kailani, which occupied a prominent place on the stand was decorated by the girls with flowers, mums and other leis. At the foot of the stand were placed bouquets of roses, chrysanthemum and other flowers, which were dear to the late Princess.

Princess Kailani was born October 16, 1875, and she lived, would have been thirty-seven years of age today.

The singing of the Kailani song by the girls was perfect. An evidence of their good training by the teachers the pupils pronounced the Hawaiian words clearly and with precision.

The pupils recited the poem which Robert Louis Stevenson wrote in tribute to the late princess.

The singing of the Kailani song, which is dear to the heart of Hawaiians, was not only an account of its Hawaiian music, but because of the Hawaiian composition was a great success.

After the first assembly of the pupils had witnessed the exercises they returned to their respective rooms in charge of their teachers, to make room for others. The program was requested many times.

Mrs. Fraser, principal, said this morning that when the Kailani School was first started about thirteen years ago, there were only 354 pupils in attendance. Now the total number of the pupils is 387, with twenty-one teachers, including Mrs. Fraser, the principal. She is very much pleased with her assistants.

Following was the program:
1. Kailani, Room 1. Violet Wong.
2. Song "Kailani", Room 13 and 20.
3. Decoration of portrait, Room 12.
4. Tribute to Kailani, Room 12.
5. Robert Louis Stevenson, Room 18, Helen Duncan, Irene Goo, Lucy Ho, Ainahan, Room 13 and 20.
6. Song "Kailani", Room 13 and 20.
7. "Kailani", by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Room 13 and 20.
8. Kailani, Goldie Gahan, Room 17.
9. Song "Kailani", Room 17.

The Great Register was closed last night at midnight with the total registration of 7982, the largest number ever tallied in Honolulu. As yet the City Clerk and his assistants have not had time to figure out the total registration from the various districts, but this will be completed within two days. At midnight all of the candidates for county offices and filed their nomination papers, including those of the candidates for the Republican and Democratic parties and those running independently.

The weary crowd that filled the corridors of the city hall last night was the last of the eligible voters, and they waited patiently for those in front to register and pass out. It was slow work, but as fast as the clerks could they passed the voters along to City Clerk Kalauchalani, who swore them on their affidavits.

At eleven o'clock there were forty voters standing three deep before the rail in the clerk's office; Hawaiians, Chinese, Americans, British, former soldiers and sailors, rich and poor, alike, stood perspiring and waiting for their turn. At twelve o'clock the book was officially closed by the clerk, although all who happened to be in the room at that time had their registration affidavits filled in and sworn to.

In 1910 the registration was 7481, making the increase this year about 500 and it was expected that the registration this year would easily go to 8000.

USE AND ABUSE OF ILLUSTRATIONS IN ADS
Mr. Tom Sharp will give the Honolulu Ad Club a talk tomorrow noon on the "Use and Abuse of Illustrations in Advertising." Mr. Sharp, besides being an expert sign artist has had much experience in advertising previous to coming to the islands. The lunch will be held in the upper restaurant of the Palm Cafe.

It is said that the Democrats have run their "corner" in autos for election day up to 35 machines.

WILL OF LATE JUDGE IS READ

The will of the late Judge A. S. Hartwell was offered for probate in the Circuit Court of Judge Whitney yesterday afternoon and A. W. Carter was appointed executor, with A. F. Judd, Sherwood Lowrey and John Marcellino as appraisers of the estate. All of Judge Hartwell's military trappings, which he had kept for nearly fifty years, are willed to his son Charles Atherton Hartwell.

The latest will of record was placed on file. This was executed April 22, 1912, in the presence of the chief clerk and stenographer of the Supreme Court, and named his son and A. W. Carter as executors, to serve without bond. It sets forth that the homestead on the mauka side of Judd street is bequeathed to the daughters, Bernice and Dorothy, with all goods and chattels except the oil portraits, civil and military commissions, as bers, sword belt, sashes and books on military subjects, which are bequeathed to the son.

All the furniture and chattels of his house at South Natick, Mass., also are left to Charles Atherton Hartwell, and the Hartwell family plot at Nuuanu cemetery is willed to the daughter Edith. After all debts are paid, the remainder of his property is to be divided equally among the children.

VOLCANO EXPERT IN HONOLULU

Professor T. A. Jaggar, the volcano expert, who has been making investigations of the crater of Kilauea for the past few months, has returned to Honolulu for a short stay and will give a lecture before the Engineers Club at the McKinley High School tomorrow night. The lecture will be illustrated with stereoscopic views. On October 25 he will give another talk before the Commercial Club.

Professor Jaggar stated this morning that just yet he is not prepared to give a report on his investigations of the volcano, except that it is very quiet at present. He was not there at the time the earthquake was felt on Hawaii, but just what effect the shock had on the volcano will be made known later by his associates, Mr. Wood, who was there at the time.

A Family Medicine Without Alcohol

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a tonic and alterative, free from alcohol. What is a "tonic"? A medicine that imparts strength or tone; a medicine that builds up, gives vigor and power. What is an "alterative"? A medicine that alters or changes unhealthy action to healthy action. Ayer's Sarsaparilla does all this without stimulation. Ask your doctor if a family medicine, like Ayer's Sarsaparilla, is not vastly better without alcohol than with it.
